The RitikaWood PermaDoor is an ideal solution for discerning clients and designers looking for real solid wood doors. Doors that do not swell or jam in inclement weather, ever.

Offering remarkable flexibility of design, and resilient to harsh environments, it is suited for areas where you can unabashedly expose it to the elements - be it wet areas of the bathroom or outdoors overlooking the balcony besides of course your main entrance door.

The PermaDoor is made out of solid wood. No ply, no veneers here. By virtue of which, it offers a great canvas for age-old craftsmanship - allowing artisans to pursue their traditional craft with passion, aided with a combination of modern manufacturing.

Woodworking craftsmanship, flexible production methods and leading-edge technology combine to ensure that yours is a custom-made, solid timber door built to endure.
